Eat & Drink

Good food sets the stage for people to come together... whether for a big, festive wedding or an intimate, personal gathering. Oh, and by “good food” we do not necessarily mean fine dining or a fancy menu. Firmly rooted in a philosophy of simplicity and freshness, “good food”, in our books, refers to sustainably sourced produce, flavours that are well balanced and harmonious, and food prepared in its simplest, most flavourful way.

Known for their creative approach, inspiring presentation, great flavours, and honest produce, we are proud to present the legendary Malita Joubert Catering as our preferred caterer.

Also known as “The Hanekoms from Moorreesburg”, Malita or Maudré will work closely with each of our discerning clients to create a feast that will excite the taste buds.

Our other preferred caterer, Rix and Feast Catering, offers a Proudly South African collaboration with consistent excellent quality throughout a longstanding relationship of 15+ years with Bakenhof. Retha Rix is well known for Oppiestoep and other TV productions, while Jacobus Lochner impresses with his resume as chef at various upmarket hotels and restaurants in Franschhoek. With their combined passion and 44+ years of experience, they succeed in turning a traditional meal into a superb feast.

For those with restrictive dietary requirements (Halaal, Vegan or Kosher), we recommend specialised caterers.

We also make our spacious kitchen facility available to other professional caterers, if required.

And what is “good food” without a superior glass of Bakenhof wine, handcrafted from the vineyards surrounding the celebration venue? Special occasions call for special wines. Therefore, our limited edition wine, carefully handcrafted by our winemaker, is only available onsite for you to celebrate extraordinary moments.

It is our mission to help make your dream for your big day come true. Our job is to ensure that you and your guests have a memorable celebration.

We look forward to create the perfect setting for you and yours to eat, drink and be merry.
